

Say teacher molested boys

A 40-year-old physical education teacher at a Brooklyn public school was arrested last night on charges of sexually molesting three young boys he met at a youth center in the Flatlands section.

Police of the morals squad arrested Ronald Schwartz, a bachelor, of 555 E. 82d St., Brooklyn, at his home at 10 p.m. last night on charges of luring three boys, ages 11 to 13, to his apartment and sexually abusing them. He was charged with three counts of sodomy and endangering the morals of minors.

Schwartz teaches at Intermediate School 218, a school for handicapped pupils at 270 Fountain Ave. in East New York, Brooklyn, police said. The three boys he is accused of molesting attend a public school in Flatlands. There were no charges involving pupils from IS 218.

Youth Officer Paul Punzone of the Brooklyn Ave. station said one of the boys went to his principal about the matter a week ago. After investigation, Detective Kevin Healy made the arrest.
